"A Current View of China, the Second Largest Economy"

Local Speaker: I. Allen Barber II, founded the Denver-Hainan Corporation to help state owned enterprise (SOE) executives modernize their companies by identifying potential U.S. partner companies, and then structuring relationships to benefit both sides. His network of Chinese executives, diplomats, government officials, scholars, and media representatives is his source of knowledge of contemporary China, and keeps him well informed of developments and changes within China. Mr. Barber will speak on "A Current View of China, the Second Largest Economy." How was China able to accomplish this feat in less than 31 years? What changes were necessary to encourage and support this transition from a planned economy to a market economy that is modernizing China? Mr. Barber will address how Rochester can best position itself among competing cities and regions globally to participate in, and benefit from these growing, long term markets. He will also speak to the impact on future job markets for college graduates.
